

New website in Ukrainian provides tips for living in Japan

NHK's international service, NHK WORLD-JAPAN, has started a website for the benefit of people who have fled Ukraine and resettled in Japan. It delivers information on living in Japan and programs on learning the language.

[Contents]

- Daily life in Japan
What to do in case of illness, how to react to an earthquake, and how to use Japanese money
- Learn Japanese
Short videos to memorize basic phrases, and 48 videos to learn daily conversation and basic grammar
- List of inquiry desks by local governments

<https://www.nhk.or.jp/nhkworld/uk/news/tips/>

The screenshot shows the website interface with a navigation bar (News, Головна, Історія, Відео) and a main content area. A red box highlights the 'Tips for living in Japan' section, which includes a link to 'Що робити в разі хвороби' (What to do in case of illness). This link is expanded to show an illustration of a pharmacy (аптека) and a hospital (лікарня), and text explaining when to visit a doctor or pharmacist.

NHK WORLD-JAPAN has been providing online services in Ukrainian since March

▼News website

- Updates on the latest on Ukraine, including developments in the international community
 - Information on activities in Japan supporting the people of Ukraine
- <https://www.nhk.or.jp/nhkworld/uk/news/>

▼AI-translated Ukrainian subtitles for 24-hour-a-day English programming

<https://www.nhk.or.jp/nhkworld/uk/live/>